Co., the syndicate who have the contract for the construction of the Mayeville and Big Sandy Railroad, arrived here last night. The work will he divided between the two companies at once. Preparations will be made next week to commence the construction of the road. The building of shanties, cc., for the hands will begin next week, and the firms will have between 2,000 and 3,000 men at work within ten day. This force will begradually increased to 6,000 or 7,000 by July. Mr. Shanshan said to the BULLETIX this morning that the contract required the completion of the road by the first of next February, but they might have it finished by January, if the season was favorable. If men and money will complete it by that time it will be done—naless providence prevents.
